The value of our community

In late 2016, when I first developed Gunbot, the first product for the Gunthy community, I didn't expect it to go viral overnight. Maybe it was helped by the magic of Christmas, since Gunbot v.0.1 was released 24 December 2016 at Midnight UTC. Maybe it was helped by luck, since Gunbot became available just before a large crypto bubble started. However, after 2 years of dedicated persistence and tireless devotion with Gunbot customers, developers and staff, I can state without hesitation that the real value of Gunbot has come, not from holiday timing or simple luck, but rather from its own community.

Every single aspect of Gunbot reflects a customer request or need. Every strategy, setting, and feature has been implemented, tested and deployed because one or more users requested it. With a professional development team, a beta testing room 300 members strong, world class support staff, and a robust sales and distribution channel, we delivered support for the highest volume exchanges and a steady, smart and continuous implementation of new features, all to support a clean and friendly community of professional and novice traders covering over 47 countries. This has propelled Gunbot to reach over 200 customers during its first month, more than 4000 during its first year and over 10000 at its second birthday: 24 December of 2018.

I personally thank the Gunbot community for helping with the aim to build the perfect money machine.

GUNTHY ERC-20 TOKEN

GUNTHY TOKEN monetizes licenses. Each Gunbot user receives 100 GUNTHY per licensed API Master key.

GUNTHY TOKEN is not a security. Our holders do not receive shares from Gunthy products.

Gunbot licenses can be bought and sold using GUNTHY TOKEN.

GUNTHY TOKEN is tradable on all ERC-20 DEXs, and has been submitted as ERC-20 token to all Gunbot-supported exchanges as well as 121 other exchanges. We constantly update the exchange list at <https://gunthy.org>

The value to our community

There is nothing better than to add value to your trading strategies with a tested, emotionless and straightforward software: Enter Gunbot, the first born of the Gunthy family. 100+ available indicators, over 37 customizable strategies that can be combined in any fashion, Renko, Heikini Hashi and legacy candlesticks, TradingView integration, TradingView customized backtesting, Telegram interface to manage your bot, Dollar Cost Averaging, Stop Limit orders and Reversal Trading to accumulate assets, Margin Trading on supported exchanges with up to 100X leverage and a responsive web GUI. This and more makes Gunbot the most advanced Artificial Intelligence you can use to automate your trades and remove the worst enemy to your wallet: emotions.

Gunbot already had value as software; now, we added an extra value: monetary value, tradable itself. Having a market price, it grows with market demands and it grows in value as the software expands to more and more platforms, algorithms, strategies, an exchanges.

GUNBOT: EMOTIONLESS TRADING

How is this implemented? Introducing GUNTHY TOKEN: each licensed copy of Gunbot software can be bought and sold with GUNTHY TOKEN. When users purchase GUNTHY TOKEN, a copy of Gunbot is immediately deliverable and it is tied to their GUNTHY wallet. As long as the user's wallet holds 100 GUNTHY for each exchange they would like authorized, Gunbot will work for them, 24/7. Not only can users trade cryptocurrencies with Gunbot; now users can trade Gunbot itself with GUNTHY.

When users decide to trade their Gunbot license, all they need to do is to sell their GUNTHY TOKEN at market price.

Easy, straightforward and profitable: use your Gunbot copy and profit from your trades and when you decide to stop your trading operations, hold your GUNTHY TOKEN and profit from its growing value at exchanges or sell it at higher value than what you bought it for.
